

General Drawing or Illustration Rubric

- A The drawing is a detailed representation and makes strong use of the art skills and tools available to produce high quality work. The draft stage was used to plan the space efficiently and make corrections. Any necessary information about the artist or the content is communicated in a clear and effective way.

- B The drawing is a detailed representation and makes some use of the art skills and tools available to produce high quality work. Minor elements remain from the draft stage, such as unplanned space or stray marks. Any necessary information about the artist or the content is communicated.

- C The drawing needs greater detail to communicate about the objects represented or the drawing appears as a sketch or draft in places. Objects such as straight lines or circles are drawn without the aid of tools resulting in a decrease of work quality. Some information about the artist or the content is communicated.
